ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION

Valentín-Rivera, Laura & Earl K. Brown. "Revisiting the Notion of Linguistic 'Erosion' Among Early Bilinguals: The case of Aspectual Distinction." Peer-reviewed chapter in volume entitled "Spanish in the US: Variation, Attitudes, and Pedagogy" edited by Scott Alvord and Gregory Thompson of Brigham Young University, under contract with Routledge publishing house.

Valentín-Rivera, Laura & Earl K. Brown. "Communicative purposes behind language choice and 'netspeak': Heritage speakers' of Spanish use of Facebook in the American Midwest."

Invited peer-reviewed chapter in volume entitled "Heritage Languages in the USA: Spanish Growth Across Domains" edited by Francisco Salgado-Robles of College of Staten Island, The City University of New York and Edwin M. Lamboy of The City College of New York, under contract with Brill publishing house.

UNDER REVIEW

Eddington, David & Earl K. Brown. "A production and perception study of /t/ glottalization and oral and glottal releases in five US states." Under second revision after resubmitting a revised manuscript to American Speech, a peer-reviewed journal published by Duke University Press.

Linford, Bret, Alicia Harley, & Earl K. Brown. "Second Language Development of Phonetic Reduction in Spanish During Study Abroad: The Case of /s/-Weakening." Under external review with Studies in Second Language Acquisition.

Brown, Earl K., Richard J. File-Muriel & Michael S. Gradoville. "The last stronghold of word-final /s/ in Barranquillero Spanish: Prevocalic word-final /s/ in cohesive bigrams." Invited peer-reviewed chapter under initial review for a volume entitled "Handbook of Variationist Approaches to Spanish" edited by Manuel Díaz-Campos at Indiana University, to be published by Routledge publishing house.

Richard J. File-Muriel, Earl K. Brown & Michael S. Gradoville. "Disentangling the physiological from the socially-learned in gradient, sociophonetic processes: Evidence from s-realization in Barranquilla, Colombia." Invited peer-reviewed chapter for a volume tentatively entitled "Sibilants in Spanish: diachronic and sociolinguistic analysis" edited by Eva Núñez-Méndez at Portland State University. The editor is currently looking for a publisher.

IN PROGRESS

Brown, Alan V., Yanira Paz & Earl K. Brown. "A Corpus-based Approach to Spanish Lexico-grammar." A book project for which we have received an advance contract with Routledge publishing house.

Brown, Esther L., William Raymond, Earl K. Brown, Richard File-Muriel. Tentative title: "Accumulation in memory of words' usage patterns." An article length manuscript on the effect of a word's ratio of usage in fast speech on the durational shortening of the /s/ segment in a corpus of sociolinguistic interviews recorded in Cali, Colombia. Our plan is to submit this manuscript to a peer-reviewed journal.

Brown, Earl K. "Repetition and procedural knowledge." Invited peer-reviewed chapter in volume tentatively entitled "Handbook of Usage-Based Approaches to Romance Linguistics" edited by Manuel Díaz-Campos of Indiana University and Zonia Balasch of Eastern Mennonite University. The volume is being considered for publication by Cambridge University Press.

Brown, Earl K. Tentative title: "What's all the buzz about? The effect of cumulative frequency in voicing contexts on word-final /s/ voicing in Mexican Spanish." A project in the data-analysis stage, with the plan to submit to a peer-reviewed journal.

DIGITAL PROJECTS

The computer code that I have written, mostly for corpus linguistic analysis, including webscraping textual data from various sources on the internet, is housed on my Github profile: <https://github.com/ekbrown>

Olsen, Barry S., Earl K. Brown, Gláucia V. Silva. Sound Brazilian! <http://soundbrazilian.net/>. A blog with tips, including audio examples, for speakers of Spanish who are learning Brazilian Portuguese.

Brown, Earl K. 2012. Corpus of Mexican Spanish in Salinas, California. <http://itcdland.csumb.edu/~eabrown/>. A corpus of sociolinguistic interviews of speakers of Spanish from Guanajuato, Jalisco, and Michoacan, Mexico living in Salinas, California.

RESEARCH TRAINING AND SKILLS

Proficient in the use of the R, Python, and Julia programming languages for corpus linguistics techniques, including searching and extracting data from text files, visualizing results, and fitting statistical models.

Proficient in the built-in scripting language of the phonetic software Praat in order to automate fine-grained acoustic analysis of sound files.

Proficient with the webpage markup language HTML, moderately proficient with Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), and somewhat proficient with the database software MySQL and the server-side scripting language PHP.

Proficient with parsing XML and JSON formatted data with R and Python.

[Attended the 8-hour online course "Introduction to Julia \[programming language\]" taught by Alan Edelman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in August 2018.](#)

Completed the 6-week massive open online course "Python Data Structures" offered by the University of Michigan through Coursera (coursera.org/learn/python-data) in May-June 2017.

Completed the 4-week massive open online course "Reproducible Research [with R]" offered by John Hopkins University through Coursera (coursera.org/course/repdata) in August 2015.

Completed the 4-week massive open online course "Exploratory Data Analysis [with R]" offered by John Hopkins University through Coursera (coursera.org/course/exdata) in July 2015.

Completed the 4-week massive open online course "Getting and Cleaning Data [with R]" offered by John Hopkins University through Coursera (coursera.org/course/getdata) in June 2015.

Completed the 4-week massive open online course "R Programming" offered by John Hopkins University through Coursera (coursera.org/course/rprog) in May 2015.

Attended the 30-hour workshop "Statistics for Linguistics with R" taught by Stefan Th. Gries of the University of California, Santa Barbara in Denton, Texas in August 2011.

Attended the 30-hour workshop "Quantitative Corpus Linguistics with R" taught by Stefan Th. Gries of the University of California, Santa Barbara in that city in August 2009.
